

As a concerned citizen, I urge you to keep current broadcast regulations in effect, to insure diverse sources of information in our media. This diversity remains essential to the public interest and to the health of our democracy.